A. C. HOLMES FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR.

A. C. Holmes is announced as a candidate for re-election to the office of County Surveyor, subject to the Democratic primary to be held April 6th. Mr. Holmes is a straight Democrat, voted for Bryan for President, and Beckham for Governor. He is a thoroughly educated engineer, and we doubt if any county in Kentucky has the opportunity to elect so competent a County Surveyor. He has served in that office for a number of years, and has proven himself a valuable help to the county in bridge work, etc., as well as in his regular duties. We suppose, of course, the people will readily re-elect him.

I HAVE JUST RECEIVED, a nice, fresh lot of Carpet Samples, and can furnish Carpets ready made to fit any room. All new patterns. ALSO, have some Samples, which stock is closed out. These samples will make good rugs, and will be sold at cost.

RAILROADS HIT HARD.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 18.—The State Board of Assessment and Valuation on motion to have the franchise valuation of railroads for the years 1899-1900 inclusive certified to the various counties, municipalities and school districts, decided in favor of the county attorneys. A careful calculation in the Auditor's office has disclosed that the aggregate amount of franchise to be thus certified will be the sum of $56,418,184.

From the best information obtainable it seems that the rate of taxation combined for counties, municipalities and school districts is at least $1.10 on each one hundred dollars' worth of property at which rate the total amount of money to be expended by the railroads to the various counties, cities and school districts will be the enormous sum of $602,460.00. The appended list shows the amount of franchise that each railroad will have certified out unless interfered with by the courts. This, coming in the nature of back taxes, in addition to current taxes paid by each railroad to the State on its tangible and franchise property, make a very heavy burden for the railroads to bear.

W. J. Barry & Co., will have the largest stock of Buggy material ever brought to Hickman, and guarantee everything they do.

IN REMORIAM.

Died, at her home, on Sassafras Ridge, Hattie Davis, wife of Joseph A. Davis. She was in her 21st year. She professed religion in her fifteenth year, united with the Missionary Baptist Church, and lived a consistent member until her death. True, she was a good woman. She leaves a husband and one child, a mother, three sisters and one brother, besides a host of friends to mourn her death. She was laid to rest in Sassafras Ridge burying ground. Many were the beautiful remarks made by the Rev. Alfred Jones, on this sad occasion. Weep not dear one for Hattie's gone for a little season. She was willing to go, but hated to leave her dear ones. She requested that they would meet her where parting is no more.

Dust to its narrow home beneath; Soul, to its place on high. They that have seen this look in death. No more may fear to die. Lone are the paths and sad the hours. Whence her sweet smile is gone. But oh, a brighter home than ours, In Heaven is her one.

A SUGGESTION.

In your issue of this week, Mr. Editor, I will suggest a remedy for the evils I have, in as brief a manner as your space permitted, showed up. I do not wish to be understood, however, by your readers, as originating an infallible and perfect remedy, but as my caprice indicates, I shall propose a suggestion. Does it not seem plausible that if the proper official or officials kept these illers under surveillance for a few days, or a week, if necessary, and found them still idle, that they should be strictly questioned as to their occupation, their residence, where last employed, etc., etc., and if straightforward answers could not be given, that they should be ordered out of town under pain of arrest and punishment, if found in its precincts after twenty-four hours had elapsed. This may seem harsh measures, but physicians often see better measures to save their patients, or stamp out disease that threatens to become epidemic. Quarantining cities and towns is usually resorted to in keep children and small boys from attending their schools, and to save their parents, or stamp out disease that threatens to become epidemic. MISS BELLE MERCER'S SUCCESS.

The Kokomo, Ind., Tribune, speaking of the presentation of La Mascotte, under the auspices of the Elks by amateur home talent, thus refers to Miss Belle Mercer, formerly of Hickman College. Of the second class she was presented with a handsome bunch of roses. Miss Belle Mercer, who is a comparative stranger in the city, but who through her career in the past has won a high reputation for herself as a woman, was in our midst, as possessed of one of the best and most pleasing voices in the city. Her singing was the highlight of the evening, and her dramatic work was excellent. In the third act where she appeared in the character of the heroine, she had the best opportunity to display her powers and she scored one of the most successful successes of the evening. The audience was very enthusiastic in its reception of the number and she was compelled to repeat it several times.
